About Immuneering

Immuneering provides world-class computational biology services to leading pharma and biotech companies while advancing its own pipeline with an initial focus on medicines for patients with cancer. For more than a decade, Immuneering has established itself as a recognized leader in bioinformatics, with an extensive track record of successful partnerships, peer-reviewed publications and patent filings. Immuneering's pipeline is driven by proprietary technologies the company developed and validated to systematically identify a steady stream of unique "targets" (proteins that can be modulated to attenuate disease) and "hits" (chemical structures that modulate targets, forming the basis of new medicines). These targets and hits are unlikely to be found by traditional drug discovery methods. To date, Immuneering's technologies have proven to be exceptionally rapid and capital-efficient in creating a pipeline of innovative medicines, which the company plans to pursue in clinical development.
